

Vestel Launches Meeting Collaboration Cloud Solution, an Intel® Market-Ready Solution

Vestel is set to power the potential of business across borders with the launch of its Meeting Collaboration Cloud Solution. A transformative solution for workplaces with field-based teams, international business and/or BYOD policies, this 65" Intel® vPro 4K PCAP display offers a wireless connection with Intel Unite® for fuss-free screen-sharing across different devices. Ideal for any level of IT competency, it's intuitive and user-friendly, requiring no training or additional licences to use.

User-friendly

This solution enables users to switch seamlessly from tablet to desktop mode, making it easy for collaborative work sessions to be scheduled at a moment's notice and for presentations to be worked on in real time. To facilitate wider information sharing, each connected display can support up to 4 shared screens, enabling users to compare results and alternative ideas as well as formulate a top-level overview of what is happening across the business.

With a simple click of the mouse, one presenter's screen display can be switched to another's, helping to ensure a smooth and more fluid transition between every individual presenter's allocated time slot.

Windows 10

Powered by Windows® 10 Professional operating system, the display is designed to run Windows desktop, offering a whole host of collaborative tools to complement and build on the screen sharing experience. Together with Office applications and the display's optional USB camera, services, such as Microsoft Teams ensure exceptional high definition video conference solutions.

Business across Borders

Optional extras, such as Microsoft Translator are designed to extend the reach of businesses, supporting the participation of other company offices from around the globe as well as multi-national suppliers, customers and 3rd party partners. When presentations are uploaded, AI in the cloud works to translate any words that may be difficult to understand in as many languages as required.

Share ink across multiple devices

The Whiteboard application is ideal for real-time collaboration, offering users the possibility of sharing ink across several devices and of editing, revising and updating presentations and documents, ready for immediate approval and use.

4K PCAP Display

Designed to ensure unprecedented touch accuracy and pen precision, this projective capacitive display reduces the likelihood of unintended and false inputs, even allowing users to rest the palm of their hands on the display whilst they write and draw. Thanks to its enhanced pressure sensitive touch support, it's easier than ever before to draw detailed and accurate designs, illustrations and diagrams. To ensure exceptionally detailed picture clarity from even the closest viewing distances, the display also offers a 3840 x 2160 (16:9) UHD resolution.

-ENDS-

http://www.vestelvisualsolutions.com/files/raw_1541581572.pdf

PR Contact: Rita Balestrazzi

Email: rita.balestrazzi@vestel-uk.com

Vestel B2B

Vestel is the world's number 1 producer of interactive flat panel displays. As one of the top 3 global manufacturers of TVs and displays, we keep up with demand by making 1 screen every 2.5 seconds. We power the potential of more businesses and establishments, leveraging our scale, technological expertise and proximity to Europe to bring you extra competitive edge with the latest high-quality solutions. Well-known in both the global digital signage and hotel TV sectors, we have emerged as a market leader, enabling customers of every size to overcome issues around integration and interoperability as well as the initial cost of ownership. Follow our journey @VestelB2B.

Vestel

One of the top three global TV producers, Vestel has earned its position as a global market leader, consistently building upon its reputation for delivering manufacturing excellence. Highly acclaimed across multiple sectors, the Vestel Group is renowned for its expertise in manufacturing, technology development and marketing as well as in the development and distribution of consumer electronics, professional displays, mobile technologies and household appliances.

vesteltrade@vestel.com.tr

b2bsales@vestel-uk.com